GIOVANNI MANZONE BAROLO CASTELLETTO 2006 91+ POINTS

"The 2006 Barolo Castelletto is quite a bit firmer than the 2007. Dusty red cherries, herbs, leather and licorice come together nicely in this mid-weight, promising Barolo. The finish is long, with slightly ethereal, fleeting nuances that add complexity. The vines are only seven years old, so there is every reason to believe future wines will be even better.

As is often the case, Manzone is one of the producers who chooses to bottle his Baroli on the late side."

GIOVANNI MANZONE
BAROLO BRICAT 2006

94 POINTS

"The 2006 Barolo Bricat shows a touch more richness and depth than the Gramolere. Dark cherries, plums and herbs come together nicely on a mid-weight frame laced with considerable aromatic nuance, textural elegance and complexity. The Bricat is a highly appealing wine from Manzone. As is often the case, Manzone is one of the producers who chooses to bottle his Baroli on the late side."

GIOVANNI MANZONE BAROLO GRAMOLERE 2006

93 POINTS

*"The 2006 Barolo Gramolere is a classic feeling wine laced with dark plums, prunes, spices, leather and licorice. Like so many 2006 Baroli, the aromas tend towards the ethereal end of the spectrum. Crushed flowers, herbs and licorice linger on the finish. This is a very pretty Barolo from Manzone.

Wine Spectator

GIOVANNI MANZONE BAROLO GRAMOLERE RISERVA 2004 93 POINTS

"A pure beam of cherry plays the starring role, with support from licorice and spice accents in this rich Barolo. So lush and charming, offering softer, ripe tannins, this is almost approachable now, but will improve with a few years in the cellar. Fine length."
